CRITICS OF SEA FORCE ATTACKED BY EMBASSY

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Bitterly attacking those who have criticized the Navy because of her recent misfortunes, Rear-Admiral W. E. Edmundson, chief of naval operations, made a strong plea today for the understanding and support of the American people for the Navy. The admiral, in a formal celebration of Navy Day, a day which, he declared, had been set aside to focus attention on America's naval side of defense.

ATTACKS CRITICS

When mutinies have fallen to the lot of naval service, and they fortunately have been very few—there have been those who have bitterly criticized the Navy in general, even before the cause had been determined or the responsibility had been fixed. Admiral Sherley pointed out that the men who were responsible for the mutinies, who were inspired by the inidious foreign propaganda of the world's enemies of law and order, have been named for only 150 years of honorable and distinguished service the Navy has rendered to the country and have brought by every means to bear the misfortune and disgrace attendant on the second—the wartime—administration, Mr. Allen said.

"But the Navy is a great national service and it will carry on in spite of all. It does, however, have its faults, for the understanding of the people of the country, for with its assurance we feel that the future of the Navy will be bright, that its men will be勇敢, and that, indeed, the security of our great republic will be forever guaranteed."

ALLEN SPEAKS IN PRAISE OF COOLIDGE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
DENVER, Oct. 27.—President Coolidge sits the economic position of Lincoln "during the war" and the people of the United States will re-elect him to carry on the reconstruction program. Harry J. Wadsworth, Governor of Kansas, declared in a Roosevelt Day address here tonight.

The present administration has made economic relief and begun the reconstruction of the nation which grew in the war," he said. "Coolidge has recognized that the demand of the Federal reserve law, which, he asserted, belongs in the Republican category because it was launched in the Taft administration, though not by Mr. Wilson, had been chosen President.

Woodrow Wilson's administration's accomplishments in the first four years of office were absorbed by the misfortune and disaster attendant on the second—the wartime administration, Mr. Allen said.

Mr. Allen commended Harding and his administration for the budget and the "businesslike" manner with which it was administered.

Demobilization of the army of Harding's administration, the late president's statesmanlike procedures and his limitation of arms conference were cited as other achievements.

MOFFETT OPPOSES AIR FORCE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
DENVER, Oct. 27.—In a meeting of the Denver Chamber of Commerce, General George E. Moffett, Chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, declared here today his opposition to a proposal by Senator Mitroff to support the plan for an air service as part of the fleet.

"President Coolidge stated the plan was 'a good one' when he said that what we need is a 'balanced fleet.' By this, he meant a balanced fleet on the surface and over the surface and over the water."

"The Navy in four brief years, in spite of all that has been said, is making great progress in its aviation. This is a remarkable achievement in which the country can well secure."

ALL LONG BEACH JOINS IN CELEBRATION

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
LONG BEACH, Oct. 27.—All Long Beach today joined in a general observance of Navy Day, and the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt. Today's program included water sports of the Pine-avenue avenue, swimming, diving, diving, diving, addresses by naval officers at local luncheon clubs and inspection by the public of the battleship Arizona and Nevada, anchored in the Pacific.

Not only did throngs of visitors flock to the battleship, but hundreds of Long Beach folk journeyed to the pier to visit the submarines and their mother ship, the Savannah, and the repair ship Modoc. As early as 1 o'clock the pier was packed with visitors, embarked from the Pine-avenue pier, bound for the gangways of the two fighting craft. Among this crowd, the Officers' wives, who had heard of the nation's "first line of defense," if the enthusiasm with which they participated in the open-house yesterday is any criterion.

From the Navy of a dozen little wooden ships, born back in 1775 of a people's desperate fight for independence, to the modern fleet, reached supremacy of the sea. The underlines of yesterday's program in Los Angeles, however, showed the main reason in the spirited enthusiasm of the personnel and the potent efficiency of the fighting ships they man. Efficiency was the keynote.

The thousands of visitors who crowded the decks of the Pennsylvania were thrilled by the symmetry of the ship, and a lucky group was further stirred by dives and submerged runs along the Pacific's best aboard the undersea.

Today's craft were brilliantly illuminated from the jacks forward to the main truck, and an incessant play of powerful searchlights heightened the imposing effect.

At the Kiwanis Club meeting at the Hotel Virginia this noon, Capt. D. W. Clegg, commanding officer of the battleship, anchored here, thrilled his listeners with stories of the Navy, its joys and traditions. The Commandant of the Pacific Division of the Nevada, breveted with an address on Navy Day from a local radio station.

POMONA COLLEGE HEARS NAVAL OFFICER

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CLAREMONT, Oct. 27.—Commemorating the birth of the United States, the 137th anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, sixty-seven years ago today, 900 students and faculty members of Pomona College participated this morning in a service on Navy Day from a local radio station.

Sailors who visited Long Beach this morning were given a warm welcome and special entertainments were provided for them at the Service Club, and other places.

OTHER PORTS PARTICIPATE

The program followed at the Pennsylvania, Battle Fleet flagship, was in general carried out by all other battleships at the various ports they visited along the Coast. The naval service on Navy Day, however, was provided with a thrill not on the program shortly before noon, when the naval "EDW" glided into the air at altitude of 2,000 feet during an exhibition of parachute jumping.

Lieut. C. J. O'Connor, acting officer in charge of the planes at the controls, and in the plane with him were Chief William Erbe and Chief Daniel Chamberlain, with Lieut. A. Muntrich as parachute jumpers. Diodon and Muntrich were on the

Doolittle's Racer Goes 245 Miles an Hour

Yankee Flyer Now Holder of Three Triumphs

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

BAY SHORE (Md.) (AP)—Oct. 27.—Another laurel wreath tonight on the brow of Lieut. James H. Doolittle of the United States Army.

Lieut. Doolittle late today catapulted his black Curtiss racer across a three-kilometer course in the fastest time ever made by a seaplane—245.713 miles an hour. The mark will become the official world record for the maximum plane speed when recognized by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale. It was made on a special plane with a top speed of 250 miles an hour, which Lieut. Doolittle had set aside.

The dashing Army pilot made his premier mark under conditions that were by no means ideal, with a quarter of wind in the course. He drove the same Curtiss racer with which he yesterday won the 150-kilometer race at the Schneider Trophy race, in 46.06.26—an average speed of 232.573 miles an hour—and in which he turned a speed of 236.036 miles an hour for his last and fastest lap.

MAKES FOUR FLIGHTS

Lieut. Doolittle, under the Federation Aeronautique Internationale regulations, took the three-kilometer course with a 1,000-foot diving start. His official speed was computed as the average of four consecutive flights.

He had to turn in three directions to eliminate wind advantage or disadvantage. His statistics follow:

Time for three flights Miles
First 46.06 232.573
Second 46.06 232.573
Third 46.06 232.573
Fourth 46.06 232.573

The four flights made by Lieut. Doolittle in the Schneider Trophy race were the first made by a U.S. Army aviator in a seaplane.

AMERICA HELD AT CROSSROADS

Federal Church Council Asks Armistice Peace Move

Call Issued for Observance of Good Will on Day

War Hints Call for Action, Declares Message

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Americans are divided on the crossroads of war or peace, according to a call of the Commission on International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of Churches for the observance of Armistice Day and Armistice Sunday, November 1, next.

"The wholehearted and full international co-operation for world justice, world security and world peace, ever growing internationalism, will go hand in hand with increasing war preparations, war budgets, war taxes and ultimately another world war," says the call.

Congregations all over the country are expected to dedicate Armistice Sunday, November 1, to the cause of international justice, world justice and world peace.

"The churches can, if they will, enthronize Christ in the international policies of the United States," says the call.

COOLIDGE QUOTED
After quoting President Coolidge and former Secretary of State Hughes regarding international friendship and co-operation, the call ends in part:

"Notwithstanding declarations by our President and our recent Secretary of State, ominous signs are now appearing."

"Our Congress has failed thus far even to consider the earnest recommendation of Presidents Harding and Coolidge that America adhere to the World Court of Justice.

"Our Navy has carried out spectacular maneuvers in the Pacific and the Atlantic, ill-timed and to no avail, under circumstances and conditions which inevitably irritate Japan."

"Our country has been flooded with propaganda for a larger Navy and for such colonial fortifications for Hawaii as to make it the Gibraltar of the Pacific."

"Native admirals and generals have loudly proclaimed the failure and defeat of the United States at the Washington Conference on Limitation of Armament, and secret and sinister naval plans of Japan and Great Britain and the certainty of war in the Pacific in the not distant future."

ALIEN LAW HIT

"Congress has recently enacted an immigration law highly offensive to Asiatics, not because of its essential substance, but because of the manner of its enactment."

"The Japanese have failed thus far even to consider the earnest recommendation of Presidents Harding and Coolidge that America adhere to the World Court of Justice."

A certain section of our press has been columns continuing to anti-British and anti-Japanese propaganda. Sensational stories are played up in large headlines and it is frequently said that men, when they are tucked away, where they are hardly to be seen.

To thoughtful observers, the United States is standing at the crossroads.

"Either it must go forward definitely and cordially for friendship and co-operation, or it must secede and co-operate with the nations."

MUST HAVE IDEALS

"Or asserting its absolute and unlimited right to do whatever it will, it must of necessity rely on military force, and on the necessary military and naval preparations for carrying out its purposes and for the asserted need of security."

The United States must either itself to promote the spirit, the principles and the ideals of Jesus. It is in danger of developing the same spirit that before the war found expression in Germany, the shibboleth Deutschland über Alles. It must be helpful and cooperative, and regarded by all the nations as a friend, if it will be suspected, feared and regarded as a world menace. These are the alternatives.

"The making of this choice the churches of America have large responsibility. They can, if they will, enthronize Christ in the international policies of the United States."

Grand Jury Returns "No Bills" in San Francisco Tax Case

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—An attempt by the government to collect several hundred thousand dollars in uncollected income taxes from the Moore Shipbuilding company of this city through charges of conspiracy and evasion, failed today when a Federal grand jury returned "no bills" in three charges presented by the office of the United States District Attorney. Incomes taxes sought in the cases of Robert S. Moore, Joseph S. Moore, George A. Ames, James J. Fagan, James B. McCarthy, Frank G. Willis and Alfred C. Read.

Prosecution of the asserted tax fraud case against the shipbuilding company was one of the outstanding features of the first week in the office of former United States District Attorney Sterling Carr, who recently was succeeded by Attorney George J. Hitchcock. The government asserts that the Moore Shipbuilding Company, through amalgamation with the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco, misrepresented its true earnings for a specified period and thereby defrauded the government out of taxes due.

Local Firm Bids Low on Six-Mile Section in North Part of County

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 27.—With the opening of bids today by the State Highway Commission, work will be started soon on the paving of six miles on the Oxnard-San Juan Capistrano Highway. The section to be paved is between Lajago Creek and Las Flores Canyon in Northern Los Angeles county. Ed Johnson and Sons of Los Angeles were the low bidders with an offer of $209,458 as compared with the highway engineer's estimate of $231,837.

The new pavement will be of cement concrete, twenty feet wide with edges and center thickened to nine inches. The minimum thickness will be one inch.

The commission announced that it awarded a contract to Edward Dahl of Santa Ana for the reconstruction of the bridge on what is known as the middle causeway in the vicinity of Punti, Ventura county. Bids will be accepted above the board of $1,000 as a protection for the new grade, which will be forty feet in width with a road surface thirty feet wide.

Plans have been made by the commission for the construction of a toll bridge across the Colorado River near Rhyne's River bridge. The plan was prepared by John L. Harrington, an interstate bridge designer.

The last Congress passed a act providing for the construction of toll bridge at this point, provided the plans and specifications were first approved by the highway departments of California and Arizona.

Approval is given by the California commission, subject to the right of the State to inspect the bridge when it is built. The bridge will be brought as a group to the highway commission to be prepared and upon condition that the bridge will be built upon an adequate foundation as future port of entry, and negotiations may be necessary.

The proposed bridge connects the California end of the Mexican highway between Los Angeles and Phoenix.

COLLISION WITH S-51 DESCRIBED

City of Rome Officers Tell of Fatal Accident

Prior to Crash Only White Light Visible

Engineer Underestimated Damage to Diver

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Only a single bright white light was visible to watchers aboard the steamer City of Rome until just before the collision in which the submarine S-51 sank in the night of September 24, with a loss of thirty-three lives. This was the testimony of Timothy Dreyer of Savannah, Georgia, engineer of the City of Rome, appearing before the board of inquiry today which is investigating the accident.

Ordering Dreyer to bear to starboard, the engineer sighted a red light, ordered the steamer hard aport, ordered the engines reversed and sounded a series of whistles. The captain, after the collision, turned and called out to the engineer, "What's the matter?"

For twenty-four hours the hard aport had reported everything all right below. The radio man of the submarine, directed by close to the ship's side.

UNCERTAIN OF COURSE

At the time, the bearing of the white light held steady, he said. But he was uncertain what the vessel was or what her course was. Only when he saw a collision. The light, he said, did not appear to be drawing nearer and seemed to have distance away. The light seemed to be a good distance added, but when the red light showed, he seemed to be coming right at them.

The City of Rome was traveling at about one and one-half miles an hour at the time of the collision with the submarine, according to the testimony of Chief Engineer William Bell, in a social room of the steamer at the time, he said.

The crash and the reversing of the steamer's engines occurred practically simultaneously, the engineer room showed.

As the submarine drifted past at about three or four miles an hour, he heard a distress call from the ship.

Judging by the impact, he did not consider the damage serious. Five minutes later, after reversing, he had gone to the engine room, he said, to help men working on the life boat. Whether they already had been lowered, he could not say.

He described rowing about under direction of the captain and picking up three men from the water.

Afterward the captain made a ship circle over the spot, he said.

There was "plenty of light," he said. It did not occur to him, he said, that the men might be left alive within the submarine.

He did not think "it would have done any harm" to send out a SOS.

Officers of the steamer, including Commander Diehl and other members of the crew will be held as witnesses, tomorrow.

SUPPOSED GAMBLING DEVICE—PRAYER CUBES

STRANGE BLOCKS EXPLAINED AS PART OF HEBREW CEREMONY

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

DENVER, Oct. 27.—The story of the mysterious paraphernalia of a new and hitherto unheard-of gambling cult never will be told.

Denver detectives were hot on the trail of the gamblers and had settled all disputes about the devices they used, except for translating the hieroglyphics on the sides of the two small ebony cubes. But A. A. Immelman, local resident, changed the plot of the whole story.

Two ebony cubes, about an inch square, the faces engraved in odd characters, and to each of which were attached leather thong seven feet long, were seized by Frank G. Gorfinkel, vagrant, by Patrolman Rahder.

Officer Rahder asked the detective force what the devices were. The detectives decided they were rare dice used in some Russian, Japanese or Chinese game.

Ho Wong, Hop Ali authority on things Chinese, exploded the theory that the cubes came from the Orient.

Then Officer Rahder consulted Immelman, an orthodox Jew, and the mystery was solved.

The mystifying blocks are trifles, the professor said. Immelman, however, proposed that the cubes be used in a religious ceremony.

SIRENS GIVE OVATION TO HEROIC SHIP

Wave-Scarred Liner That Saved Men of Italian Boat Greeted on Arrival

Engineer Underestimated Damage to Diver

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—A weary, wave-scarred liner poked her nose through the Narrows this afternoon, the day later, a hero.

The whole fleet of international shipping filling the harbor greeted her and her crew, expelled thousands of cubic feet of smoke in exultation for the President Dreyer's gallant rescue in mid-Atlantic of the twenty-seven officers and men of the helpless, wallowing boat, which had been driven by a rudder carried away and her hull full of shifting grain.

For twenty-four hours the hard aport had reported everything all right below. The radio man of the submarine, directed by close to the ship's side.

Harding fought the waves to another twenty-one hours she stood by in the seemingly vain hope of preserving the lives of her crew.

"It was very simple—God's mercy," said Capt. Paul Greening.

"For hours we stood by the Italian waiting for a chance to help her. Then the men were slightly injured, the ship rolled so in standing by."

"Then just after the seas had calmed, the wind dropped, the barometer rose. It was a miracle."

"The wind dropped, the sea was calm, but it lasted only two hours, but it was enough for our purpose."

PRISONER PAINTS WAY OUT OF JAIL AT BRONX

TRANSFORMS UNSEEMLY ROOM INTO BEAUTIFUL CHAPEL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—This is a transformation from the Bronx about the painter who painted himself out of jail.

Once upon a time there was a painter. His name was Cesar Bardi, and he lived at 2323 Webster Avenue, the Bronx. Last New Year's Eve he was seized by a strange urge. He wanted to paint the town red. And he proceeded to do so.

While he was trying to break into an apartment that was not his, the servants of the law came upon him and they took him to the Cadeo-Jones Apartment in Webster Avenue. The Cadeo sent the painter to spend eleven months in jail.

The Sheriff took him to the Bronx County Jail and again seized him.

But the Sheriff was poor. He had no money to buy paint, and the painter went to work, and loaned the walls and ceilings of his prison are sadly in need of a new coat of paint. Give me some paint, he said. I will transform this unseemly jail into a cheerful place of habitation."

But the Sheriff was poor. He had no money to buy paint, and the painter went to work, and loaned the walls and ceilings of his prison are sadly in need of a new coat of paint. Give me some paint, he said. I will transform this unseemly jail into a cheerful place of habitation."

The Greatest Performance of Rachmaninoff's Entire Career!

THE super-master, Sergei Rachmaninoff, sits at his piano alone . . . yet stirred to his soul's depths by the inspiring consciousness that his achievement this hour shall resound through the ages . . . that not merely hundreds or thousands shall hear when he is done, but millions and unending millions, down through the remotest vistas of time.

He plays his immortal C Sharp Minor. Once, twice, three times he plays it . . . and again . . . over and over a movement is repeated, until finally the ideal he is striving for has been attained!

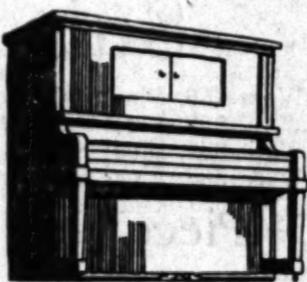

All the while in another room an invisible system of electro-magnets transfers to a roll of paper the most delicately accurate record imaginable of every movement of every key and pedal in the piano, showing the exact intensity and duration of the notes sounded. It becomes a veritable imprint of the artist's PERSON-ALITY . . . vivid TONE PICTURES just as they come from his finger tips.

After the great artist has given his last finishing touch to the masterpiece, and the triumph is complete, only the recording that represents his supreme best is retained and preserved for future Re-enactment in the homes of Ampico owners.

Thus it is that the greatest performance in the entire career not only of Rachmaninoff, but of hundreds of other world-renowned artists, is to be heard, not in their public recitals, but in Ampico Re-Enactments heard in the privacy of the home. No other instrument possesses the Ampico's photographically exact system of taking the life-pulsing impressions of the artist's every touch. Over 100 distinct and revolutionary patented features give the Ampico this incomparable superiority.

Perhaps you have never realized how easily the AMPICO may be secured for your own home. An upright piano of superb quality may be secured with the AMPICO for very little more than the price of an ordinary player piano.

There is but one AMPICO, and it is obtainable only in the distinguished makes of pianos represented by the dealers named below. Hear it at any one of these houses today:

MILLIONS HAVE DEFECTIVE EYES

One-eighth of School Total Handicapped

Uniform Vision Tests Urged by Committee

Conditions in Cities Better Than in Country

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, October 27.—Three million school-children in the United States, or one-eighth of the entire school population, are handicapped in their education by defective eyesight, according to a report sent by the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness to every City, State and county school superintendent in the country, urging that a uniform law for the examination of the eyes of school children be adopted by all States and cities.

The report, which is entitled, "Conserving the Sight of School Children," is the result of more than a year's exhaustive study made by a joint committee of the National Education Association and the American Medical Association with the co-operation of the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness. This study was conducted under the direction of Thomas D. Woods of Columbia University, New York, chairman of the joint committee.

According to the report, only one-half of the States have the examination of the eyes of school children made compulsory by law, and few of these states specifically the portion of the population to be examined, the frequency with which such examinations are made, or whether the examinations shall be made by physicians, nurses or teachers. In fourteen other States the law is merely permissive.

To obtain accurate information, the joint committee recommended to school authorities and administrative procedures. The joint committee made a questionnaire of all school pupils followed in public schools in caring for the eyesight needs of school children. The study covered 375 cities, also rural districts in every State and was carried out with the assistance of school authorities and health officials in all these communities, as well as by 100 of the most noted ophthalmologists in the country.

Figures yielded by the joint committee show that only one-half of 24,000,000 school children in the United States have their eyes examined and vision tested annually. The report states that of the children attending the public schools, about 12 per cent have defects of vision which could be corrected by glasses. The committee estimates the report States, "suggests that considerable progress in eye defect and estimates of recent figures which have been obtained, most reliable range, from 15 to 20 per cent."

An interesting fact brought out by the joint committee's report is that the rural districts generally report a larger percentage of defective vision than the city districts.

Bees Traveling to Antipodes to Increase Output

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
VANCOUVER (B. C.) Oct. 27.—A new system of making bees produce two crops of honey in a year and doing away with the expensive carrying over of the twenty weeks of cold weather has been devised by James Ballentyne of Nelson, B. C.

Ballentyne sailed on the Canadian-Australian Royal Mail Line to Niagara, Australia, and with 14,000 bees and 100 queen bees. Already these bees have produced honey during the summer here, and Ballentyne's contention is that the bees will produce again in time to that of Canada. He will get another crop of honey from these bees after he reaches Australia.

By sending bees back and forth across the Pacific from Canada to the Antipodes he expects to make a fortune out of intensive production of honey.

STATE OFFICIAL SUED ON EXPOSE

Banks Superintendent Made Defendant in Action

Ex-Appraiser Asks $50,000 on Conspiracy Arrest

Action Expected Again to Open Sensational Case

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Striking back at the man who subjected him to arrest several months ago in a sensational State Banking Department expose, Joseph H. Goldman, ousted department appraiser, today filed suit here for $50,000 damages against State Superintendent of Banks Johnson on the ground of malicious prosecution.

Goldman asked redress for his arrest, legal expenses, damages for disbarment and conspiracy to defraud the State Banking Department of funds, of which charges he was later cleared, together with $10,000 for several years he maintained a residence in St. Louis.

The suit against Johnson will reopen the sensational case which several months ago commanded the interest of the entire State, even bringing Gov. Richardson into the affair.

Goldman and Janas were dismissed from the State Banking Department on June 1, and same day were taken into custody upon warrants sworn to by Johnson.

It was charged that the pair had been plotting to defraud the State by destroying the various revolutionary factions.

After a hearing, Judge Lazarus accepted both men, charging the discrepancy in the bank's bookkeeping system in the banking department. It was shown, the court admitted, that no funds were actually embezzled.

Following their dismissal, Janas and Goldman hurried counter-attacks at Johnson, and from their respective positions in the North and West with the idea of bringing wet weather farmers to a standstill, to settle on the lands and raise cattle on the crops.

The plan was to advertise the Terrazas lands for sale in the North and West with the idea of bringing wet weather farmers to a standstill, to settle on the lands and raise cattle on the crops.

The fact that farming may be carried on practically the year around, that is an abundance of water and fertilizer, was emphasized in this advertising campaign, and excursions are to be made to prospective settlers into the new lands.

The papers are now part of the efforts to bring the public to the bank suit and are expected to play an important part in that case.

LIFTING OF DUTY AID TO SHEEP INDUSTRY

CANADIAN STOCKMEN TO BRING IN ANIMALS FROM UNITED STATES

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 27.—A great impetus has been given the importation of sheep into British Columbia by lifting the duty until November 30, next. Two hundred States farmers settled in the Kamloops district last week with 2,000 sheep each, to begin raising sheep on a large scale.

A syndicate, consisting of many prominent business men of Canada, formed recently to bring in the animals, and the first to take the lead in this venture.

The animals, however, were to be brought in the fall, and the first to take the lead in this venture.

Last season this market had only 25,000 sheep, and the new imports will give the coming season 60 percent more than last year.

Game Warden Discreetly Diagnoses of Tule Lake Duck Scourge.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) RACRAMENTO, Oct. 27.—Reports originating from some unknown quarter, that a form of bird cholera is responsible for the killing of thousands of wild ducks in the Tule Lake country, near the Oregon border, were discounted here today at the office of George Tonkin, United States game warden.

The warden remains a mystery and the investigation is being continued, Tonkin having left here this morning for Tule Lake to continue his study of the situation.

Representatives of the United States Biological Survey located here are still waiting for reports from headquarters in Washington with reference to the disease and specimens of ducks which were sent there for examination about a week ago.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT BONDS FAIL TO GET BID

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) SACRAMENTO, Oct. 27.—For the second time in a week, an attempt by State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson to sell $125,000 worth of bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage districts failed today for want of bidders.

A syndicate, which the State Reconstruction Board expected to take the bonds, failed to put in a bid.

The syndicate, an investment company of San Francisco, which renewed the proposition made at the first bidding, offered $124,150 worth of reclamation warrants, a like amount in bonds. The proposition was not accepted.

SLEEPER BURNED AS FIRE DESTROYS BARN

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) MC FARLAND, Oct. 27.—John Craft, 50 years of age, was seriously burned in a barn when the hay-filled barn in which he was sleeping on the J. C. Cliff property at McFarland, burned down.

J. C. Cliff, 17, was en route to San Francisco, passed the scene of the tragedy and rushed the man to Kern General Hospital in Bakersfield.

John's condition is critical. According to McFarland residents, Mr. Craft recently returned from Oregon and was staying with Martin J. Durbin, bandit, who is sought in Southern California and obtained permission to sleep in the stable at night. The craft property was recently leased by Federal Agent Shanahan, and he was released.

TERRAZAS'S LAND FOR SALE

Chihuahua Property to Be Colonized and Made Into Farms by New Company

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 27.—Gen. Luis Terrazas's inland empire in the State of Chihuahua, Mex., is to be cut into small tracts and sold to American and other foreign settlers for colonization, cotton-growing and cattle-raising.

This was announced here at the office of the Chihuahua Commercial Agency, which is maintained by the State of Chihuahua to promote the agricultural and industrial development of the Mexican frontier. The agency's territory includes the greater part of the State of Chihuahua not under cultivation at the time when American settlers were permitted to go to American colonies. The agrarian lands near the towns and cities will be reserved and held for the nation, but the remaining lands will be sold and set aside by the foreign colonists.

United States Senator Holman of New Mexico is president of the Anglo-American Development Company, which is to finance and handle the details of the colonization plan and associate him with A. B. Almada, of Chihuahua; F. C. Hillard, of the Chihuahua Commercial Agency and other mining and promotional men.

The lands which will be sold have been idle since the Mexican revolution in 1911, when Chihuahua became a state, and the settlers were driven from the lands, the cattle killed or shipped to the United States and sold for war horses and mules.

Mr. Booge, who is to be the manager of the new company, said it all, but of the other Terrazas lands will be sold and set aside by the foreign colonists.

NEW FINANCING UNDER WAY

Los Angeles Dealers Ready With Numerous Issues
of Securities; Investment Market Buoyant

BY EARLIE E. CROWE

To satisfy the demand for investment securities, the large underwriting houses in Los Angeles are planning a series of offerings within the next ten days that will rival any previous period in the distribution of securities on the Pacific Coast. The calendar is well filled with industrial, public-utility, irrigation and foreign issues, and many of them are the obligations of Southern California enterprises.

Many of the dealers look at the amount will approximate $14,000,000 bearing 7 per cent interest.

From Blair & Co., Inc., the market expects the early arrival of the recent purchase of the Waite-Philips Petroleum Company. Possibly it is suggested, that offering will take the form of stock and convertible bonds, or somewhat along the same line as similar financing handled in the past by the Blair organization. This is in line with the Waite-Philips Petroleum Company, which is to be used as the basis for a midcontinent consolidation, including such companies as Skelly, Mid-Continent and Standard of Kansas. This report, however, lacks substantiation.

CAUTION URGED

Nevertheless, the clients of some of the houses are attracted by the bidding activity in the stock market, which, as might be expected, is the direct result of the certain income from a standard investment security in the stock market. They point out that the stock market is now at such heights that speculation is at a fever pitch, and is costly to those unversed in the ways of speculation.

Somewhat like twelve or fifteen years ago, the market is scheduled for sale within the next ten days by the Los Angeles dealers. They will be the largest with a total of $4,000,000 Nevada Irrigation District 5 1/2s, offered by a syndicate headed by Dillon, Read & Co. The offering is to be the obligation of an irrigation district organized in Nevada in this state, and it is understood that the Pacific Gas and Electric Company is close.

This offering will be the largest of its kind since the Merced Irrigation District, which is the same in size and structure as the Nevada Irrigation District, was sold by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in 1924.

This offering will be the largest of its kind since the Merced Irrigation District, which is the same in size and structure as the Nevada Irrigation District, was sold by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in 1924.

Because of its reciprocal license agreements with General Electric, stock and produce market, and its ownership of stock in the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, and later banking, money theory and corporation finance in the Wall Street division of the new college of commerce is being trained.

W. McG. Cunningham was appointed dean of the college of business administration and the new curriculum was established this year. He has taught commercial credit, stock and produce market, and banking, money theory and corporation finance in the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, and later banking, money theory and corporation finance in the Wall Street division of the new college of commerce is being trained.

ANOTHER BOND PLANNED

The origination of two attractive pieces of business by Banks, Huntley & Co., Inc., and the new college of commerce is being trained.

Security: These Bonds will be secured by a First mortgage on the valuable business property owned in fee at the N.W. Corner of Fifth and Olive streets, together with the modern six story hotel and store building situated thereon.

Valuation: The land and building have been recently valued by 3 well-known independent appraisers at a minimum of approximately $800,000. This Bond issue of $450,000 is thus an indebtedness of about 56%.

Earnings: Actual Net Earnings of the property from leases now in force, after taxes, vacancies and insurance are at the rate of $47,750 per year, while maximum interest charges are $29,250 per year.

Location: The location of the property is a particularly strategic one, being opposite the N.W. Corner of Pershing Square and directly across Fifth Street from the Biltmore Hotel.

Sinking Fund: Beginning October 1, 1927, the Company covenants to pay an annual sum to the Trustee to retire bonds. It is further provided that 1-12 of this requirement, together with 1-6 of the semi-annual interest charge shall be paid to the Trustee every month in advance.

Action of Financially Strong Companies in Retiring Preferred Issues as Substantial Premiums Seen as Benefit to Common Stock Holders in Long Run.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—By way of emphasizing the strength of their financial structures industrial companies with plenty of cash on hand are turning to safety themselves against any difficulties by retiring preferred stocks, even though it is necessary to pay a substantial premium to do so.

Since the beginning of the current year the trend in the direction has been clearly defined and it has been one of the outstanding accomplishments of the period. The management that is in a position to carry through such a plan, in the first place, it indicates that conservatism has been the keynote of the officials, and that without conservatism it would not be possible to eliminate such charges against earnings ahead of the time.

Again it shows that officials are desirous of having their junior shares elevated to the higher point possible, and that end are not removed from the market.

Again it shows that the Temecula production of several barrels a day will be increasing every day while it is being drilled.

Cable tools were used to penetrate the hole, and in a few months or six weeks, it will be drilled to the bottom.

TOO MANY LEGS

Those are rather to be pitied whose idea of entertaining visiting statesmen was to stage a Charleston dancing contest.

ALWAYS PRESENT

People who are once more grieving over their tax bills are informed that there is no spot on this continent where they may go and escape the tax-gatherer.

THE OLD HAT

It is now nearly 500 years since the French invented hats. Before that day even the politicians were likely to be abroad with steel helmets over their heads. The world has covered its brains with many devices,
but the hat as we are accustomed to consider it today was evolved in the France of 1449. Of course, the early lids did not look much like the domesheads of our time,
but the idea was there.

OBJECTS TO PAROLE

A local judge supplies serious criticism of the operation of the parole law in the State. He does not object so much to the principle as the method of its administration.
Among other things he says that it should be very difficult for a thief to secure parole or pardon unless there has been restitution. There have been lots of cases in which swindlers and crooks have been released after a few months of prison life and have been then able to live at ease upon the proceeds of their crimes. There should be complete restitution to those who have been wronged before the boos of freedom
can be accorded.

THE DOUBLE LIFE

The pastor of a New Jersey country church was in his pulpit every Sunday, but during the week he was employed as a floor-walker in a department store in New York City. This condition was maintained for more than a year before the congregation knew anything about it. However, no exception could be taken to this form of double life. The church could only pay him $75 a month, but the $150 which he drew from the store enabled him to clothe and educate his family and preach better sermons on the Sabbath day. He was free from the worry that would otherwise have been his portion. It was a fine thing all 'round.

TAMING THE TORNADO

What this world needs is a wind-tamer,
some one who can soothe a cyclone by whisking salt. Its tail or who can put a tornado to sleep by shooting a few drops of oil into its veins. The adventurers who are negotiating the air with their winged craft are still at the mercy of King Brama.
When the wild winds blow they cross their fingers and duck to some harbor of safety.
If they try to ride out the blast death and desolation may be their portion. It may be that in some day science will be able to regulate and direct the air currents and hold the whirlwind in restraint. When that day comes the world will be a good deal
safer for democracy than it is at present.

ARE PARENTS PEOPLE?

President Coolidge tells the Young Men's Christian Association that there is need for more home control. Parents are not taking that full and careful consideration for the welfare of their offspring that they should. They are shifting the responsibility to their children from the home to the street. These findings have come from the lips of others, but they carry larger weight when backed by a voice from the White House. In all generations parents have been blamed for the lapses of their young, but it is certain that there was never a time in the history of our own country
when the young folks were given more luxurious freedom from parental restraint than today.

THE GREATEST GOAT

The Roosevelt expedition in the Himalaya region is reported as having shot three or four specimens of the mysterious divipoli or bearded ram of Bhutan. This massive adventure in the mountains goat family has not been accurately identified since the days of Marco Polo and it will be remembered that Marco is not noted for his accuracy. Many naturalists were not sure that there was any such animal, but if the Roosevelts bring home three or four mounted peats the world will have to believe. The evil poli is said to have the broadest expanse of horn of any sheep or deer, but whether they use these horns as bumpers in making their mountain jumps is not known. There is an old story that these alert animals may spring blithely from a cliff and by lighting on their bony fore-heads arise and trot off unharmed. Possibly we shall know the truth when the returns are in from the Roosevelt family.RADICALISM IN FRANCE
M. Caillaux, Minister of Finance of the French government, did not long survive
politically his abortive attempt to refund the French debt to the United States. The tentative agreement reached with Secretary Mellon was regarded with disfavor in French circles because it required France to pay too much, and in America because it permitted France to pay too little.His failure to secure a satisfactory settlement here, coupled with the failure of the recent French internal loan and the hostility of the radical and Socialist groups in Parliament, combined to make his position as a Cabinet member untenable. Aware that it would be impossible to secure a Parliamentary majority for the Caillaux plan, Premier Poincaré decided that the one way out of the difficulty was for the whole Cabinet to resign. This clears the way for the formation of a new Cabinet in which Caillaux
will not be included.Cabinet changes in the French government, however, are seldom attended by marked change in government policies.
They generally result from what would be considered elsewhere trivial differences;
and they have little effect on the economic and industrial life of the country. The present Cabinet had held office for a little more than six months, which is perhaps a little more than the average for French Cabinets.Caillaux retires because he would not tray with the radicals and the Socialists
in the Chamber of Deputies and in the Senate. These two groups furnished the majority for the Poincaré government. Caillaux financial policy was more in line with that of the Right Wing in the two houses; but the Right Wing would have nothing to do with Caillaux on account of his unsavory
war record.In financial circles outside France Caillaux will be more highly respected because he refused to accept the radical-Socialist policy of a capital levy than if he had compromised what he believes to be sound financial principles in order to remain in the Cabinet.That continuous threat of a capital levy is regarded with grave apprehension in financial centers outside France. It is certain to drive more and more French capital from the country and to serve as a bar to investment of foreign capital there. One wonders how a majority in the French Chamber of Deputies can support such a proposal; for the present exchange value of the franc should serve them as a barometer
to indicate approaching storm.The actions of the present lower chamber recall at times that of the Directoire during the revolution. It seeks to modify or annul by legislation economic laws. That has been tried before in some form by almost every generation in every country and it has never yet registered a success.But the majority of the French Deputies are apparently not in a mood to accept the experiences of the past as conclusive.
They have pledged themselves to support certain radical ideas and they will carry out those pledges regardless of the consequences. Perhaps the French electorate as a whole must have an object lesson before it will recognize that radical Socialism is not applicable to a modern state. They have the power to debase the French franc until it reaches a level with the old Russian ruble and the German mark; but if they do so, whether internationally or not, the people of France will not be able to escape the hand of the law.in a dark room, express undying affection denied the priceless privilege of holding hands for two or three hours?If dear old Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, who was both poet and pill-prescriber, had lived in these times so redolent of lysis, iodoform and chloride of lime, would he have written so glowingly, "How good it feels—the hand of an old friend?" Or would he shudderingly have said to himself,
"Death lurks in those encompassing digits,
and I must go and apply lysis?"REPLACING LOCOMOTIVES
"The motor car is displacing the locomotive," says the Detroit News. However, we were at a crossing recently where a motor car had tried to displace a locomotive;
but if he had not displaced it so that one could notice it.The springs of the motor car had turned up their toes and died. The radiator had split in two and leaned back against the engine in eternal repose.The driver was thrust down over the steering gear so that the wheel had to be removed to pull him off. One headlight was half-blind and the other was cross-eyed.
The frame had crumpled up like zigzag lightning. One cylinder was missing.There was no definite sign that the locomotive had been greatly annoyed.The driver of the car was slightly dis-commoded. His skull was fractured; his back was broken; his chest was caved in;
his legs were limp. The only thing about him that did not seem to be damaged was his self-concept.He looked as if he might be laid up for several days and give the locomotive a chance to have a puffing spell in its strenuous endeavors to avoid being displaced.There were fewer attempts at this mild enthusiasm the mortality rate of America would be appreciably lowered. As a life work displacement of locomotives is not recommended by the best authorities as especially healthful. It also has a depressing effect on the insurance market.To date we have not heard that the Baldwin Works are shutting down because of panic in railroad circles. On the other hand, it is current that the motor industry is speeding up—likely to keep up with the demands of those who are in the displacing business.It is said that the junk man is not against the sport. The undertaker rubs his hands with glee. The preacher's job is magnified.
And even the newspapers are furnished
the barometer of causing a storm.THE DEADLY HAND-SHAKE Kissing, amably allowed by doctors for centuries and presumably practiced by them whenever they had osculatory opportunity, has of late years been disapproved
by the more strait-laced of the medical fraternity, who are now also setting firm fear of hand-shaking.One of the strongest expressions as to the insatiable habit of pressing palms and fixing fingers is that reported from the St.
Louis convention of the American Public Health Association, where Dr. Cary J. Vaux of the Pittsburgh department of health assured his hearers that shaking hands was one of the chief means of spreading disease."Today," said this authority on sanitation,
"a friendly hand-clasp often means death."This dismaying message is being duly received and contents noted, the question remains: "How often?" Take, for example, the dangerous habit of our Presidents, who have submitted themselves to the ordeal of shaking hands by the hour with long lines of their admiring fellow-countrymen who would not for the world have subjected them unsuspecting Chief Executives to contagion or infection—how often, if at all, has
it resulted in the passing of a President before his allotted time? Perhaps Dr. Vaux will be willing to admit that none of them has departed this life because of the hand-shaking habit. Perhaps he is ready to concede that in clasping hands the benevolent bacteria thus exchanged overcome
and destroy those of a malignant nature.
It so, his discomfiting dictum as to the evils of the friendly hand-shake is convened at the start and nothing more need be said of it. But doubtless he is prepared to do nothing of the kind, and stands by his guns, waving off even the fairest of feminine finger tips extended in his direction as loyally messengers of death.Some idea of the far-reaching effects of such a ban upon hand-shaking as the learned sanitary expert doubtless would like to see enforced in this country of promiscuous close clutchings and arm-pumpings may be gained by a consideration of a few of the many hardships such a harsh edict would entail.One staggering problem immediately presents itself—how would a news-reel man pose two celebrities before his camera if all hand-shaking were prohibited? How would two members of a secret fraternal society give the grip that imparts the tremendously significant fact that each belongs to the Royal Order of Ostriches? How would a pair of lovers, sitting on the sofa

Taxes Exorbitant

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24.—To the Editor of The Times: I want to ask your co-operation to secure the proper legislation in our city and county, as well as in our State, to have our taxes reduced to a fair
and just standard, so that people who own their homes and other property in Los Angeles may not be imposed upon by further unjust taxation.For the past twelve months the rentals in this section of Hollywood have been 15 per cent less than the previous two years and yet
the assessed value of all real estate in the city has been raised 15 per cent, making a total loss of 30 per cent to the average owner of income property, while the selling price of said property has also decreased at least 15 per cent
—showing that the market value
has increased us much as inflated values, rather than a real increase—which is unjust and is working a hardship to every property owner at present—and at the same time, as you know, our city and county officials have been reduced in salary and our taxes have been increased and some have been convicted of bribery. We thought our "Hall of Justice" was to cost $2,000,000 and now we learn it is to cost $5,000,000. Any help that you may render in the way of this legislation
to obtain justice will be appreciated
by the writer and thousands of other worthy citizens.

Favoritism Deplored

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—To the Editor of The Times: Quite recently two Cook county, Illinois
officials were sentenced to a prison term
for extending unreasonable
special privileges to two wealthy runaway prisoners.Still more recently the California
Board of Prison Directors granted
a parole to the notorious criminal
A. (Big Hutch) Hutchings, that he may live in luxury on the wealth obtained by robbing people of Southern California.Now comes the Anna Q. Nilsson case, which is a divorce, which was sent to Judge Thompson's court for trial within fifteen days
after the complaint had been filed.
Had it been placed on the calendar
to take its usual turn it would have been heard probably not until April or May. More special privileges.Still more recently the California
Board of Prison Directors granted
a parole to the public's favorite and most popular criminal, who was to receive $5,000 for the construction of a new prison.
That is a queer world we live in.

Whatizit?

AZUSA, Oct. 24.—To the Editor of The Times: On Wednesday of this week
there appeared in your paper a picture of a small child captured by a Chinese mining engineer, on the Nevada desert. Later E. E. Harriman identified the animal as "bassaris astuta."
Webster's International Dictionary
is as follows: "Cocomixle, caonix, caonix, Mexican name of a North American carnivore (bassaris astuta)
about the size of a cat, as related to the raccoons. It inhabits Mexico, Texas and California."The little animals are very plentiful in the San Gabriel Canyon, north of Azusa. I have one in my window show which is a hundred times better than the one in the picture.

RECORDS

By The Foodie Philosopher
We don't want to be seriousminded and are not beyond taking a human interest in the sensations
of modern life, but these perennial stories of record-smashers are getting on "our" nerves. Not a day passes but somebody breaks a world record for doing something else, and we have to be told about it.But such are we that walk this earth.
The songs we make are only lifted
To sing, not real solid worth.
But to heap incense on the gifted.
What time you wallop in your sty
With a song, we'll sing. Please inspect you,
With but a cold and callous eye.
And ever in their rhymes neglect you.
Bland, unobserving, casual men.These poets, who are only able To understand your merits when You're on the table.

THE INEVITABLE

I like to see a man who faces what he must. With step triumphant and heart of cheer; Who fights the daily battle with out fear, Sees his hope fade—yet keeps unfaltering trust. That's the kind that, somehow,
is true and just. His plans work out for mortals;
not a tear Is shed when fortune, which the world holds dear, Falls from his grasp; better with love, a crust Than loving in dishonesty; envies
not. Nor loses faith in man; but does not ever murmur at his humble lot.But with a smile and words of hope, gives rest To every toiler. He alone is great Who, by a life heroic, conquers fate.

Federal Action Against Second Woman Expected
as Result of Arrests

An indictment probably will be brought against Mrs. Genevieve Guerino, 25 years of age, before the Federal grand jury today,
charging her with complicity in the $400,000 mail robbery for which five men are held in the County Jail.

Mrs. Guerino is being held in jail at Chicago under a federal law. Mrs. Dorothy Lee Teschiona, who was indicted in company with her husband, "Dago" Techieone,
was arrested in Chicago by mail inspectors when they called at the general-delivery window.
Some of the plunder, which Mrs.
Teschiona is accused to have "stolen" from her husband, was recovered by the inspectors.

A certified copy of the indictment against Mrs. Guerino was mailed to Chicago yesterday. According to dispatches the women have waived hearings and probably will return here toward the latter part of the week.

Abandonment of Cherokee-Street
Project Sought

Abandonment of proceedings for the opening and widening of Cherokee street from Selma avenue to Sunset Boulevard was recommended yesterday afternoon by the City Council. Street Opening is the name of the bill.

The improvement was petitioned for many months ago by property owners on the street and a number of hearings were conducted on the method of taking the law into effect for the street opening.

The committee said that as the property owners could not agree as to the method that should be condemned for the street opening, the project should be dropped.

Information also was given the committee that the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce is spearheading a movement to widen and straighten Las Palmas avenue, which is one street west of Cherokee, to provide the traffic flow desired.

IN PLATE OF STRING
NARROW RUBBER Bands are nice to use in place of string or jelly tumblers instead of string. They are much more easily adjusted and, when doubled, fit quite tightly.

CHRONIC BRIGHT'S disease may last for many years, so obviously we cannot keep a sufferer of this disease on the very limited diet we eat in the course of a day. We have to see that all the organs suffer, and that the body is not starved for food are supplied. But overweight must be avoided, and, if present, the weight should be kept slightly below normal.

Because most of the protein wastes of the body are eliminated by the kidneys, we have to be very careful that there is no excess protein in the diet, but, on the other hand, we have to be careful that there is not too little.

One of the faults of the older treatment of chronic Bright's disease was that through the fear of protein, the diet was kept too low and too rigid. The result was that all of the organs suffered, for tissues being protein themselves, are made and repaired by the protein elements in the diet.

One and one-half cups of protein per pound of body weight is considered the minimum of protein necessary for well being in health and for chronic disease. The diet should be given, but no more.

Because the kidneys are weakened, we not only have to spare them excess protein, but we have to eat the diet which is on the other hand, we have to be careful that there is not too little.

They are said to have given the school authorities considerable trouble in the past and attributable to their desire to run away to the fact that their parents would not allow them to go out at night.

BODY FOUND FLOATING IN MILL DITCH

Handkerchief Tied Tightly Around Neck Gives Rise to Murder Theory

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 27.—His neck bound tightly with a pocket handkerchief, a middle-aged man, swarthy-faced and tall, weighing 160 pounds, was found floating in the waters of the mill ditch near the Bakersfield Brewing Company's plant on Twenty-fourth street.

Free from bruises, cuts or gunshot wounds, the man's death might be laid to natural causes, but the manner in which the handkerchief was wound so tightly about the neck gives rise to the theory of murder.

Mr. Shadie, an employee of the Associated Supply Company, going to work this morning, was attracted by a floating, dark object which he identified as a handkerchief. He discovered the body of the supposed murder victim.

BUSINESS REASONS

The bride explained today that the announcement of the wedding was withheld until after the marriage, in order to keep the secret from business relations. About the time that the marriage was taken, she said, she sold an interest in the business to Samuel Rosenthal, a Bakersfield manufacturer, and to Samuel Rosenthal, a Bakersfield manufacturer, and to

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SAFETY. Oct. 27.—Announcement of a resolution urging the consolidation of a large number of dairy firms now engaged in a "milk war" at Oakland, and the decision to appoint a committee to combat the efforts of the oleomargarine interests in the effort to repeal an amendment to the state constitution by means of the referendum, featured the sessions here of the quarterly meeting of the California Dairymen.

Milk dealers and producers have lost $1,000,000 in the two years the "war" has been in progress, in the estimation of Sam H. Greene, secretary of the association.

Greene said the "oleo" interests have invoked the referendum on the bill proposed by the legislature to extend the present oleomargarine law so as to require the printing of the word "oleomargarine" along with the name of the manufacturer.

The council indicated the dairy interests of the state will oppose vigorously an effort to have the amendment erased. The convention closed tonight.

OLYMPIA EXPERT

The daughter, however, cared for a business career for herself, and the family reluctantly gave her their consent.

Her husband is a graduate of the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy, and member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity. In the course of his work he has been consulted as an expert on fields in every continent.

He discovered the body of the supposed murder victim.

SIX SEEK BEACH ELECTION PRIZES

Lists Close Saturday for Santa Monica Vote

Planning Commission May be Chief Issue

Records of Candidates Get Club's Inspection

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, Oct. 27.—With only four days remaining for the filing of candidacies, six men have entered the race for the offices of police judge, Commissioner of Public Works and Commissioner of Finance. The lists close Saturday for the election, which will be held November 1.

John A. Morton is seeking re-election as Commissioner of Public Works. Henry C. Petersen is opposing him. T. A. Helton is a candidate to succeed himself as Commissioner of Finance. William W. Braden is out for the same office.

Police Judge N. D. Miller, who was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of W. R. Garrett, resigned, will return to the private practice of law. The judgeship is being sought by Charles A. Gibson, A. M. Spencer and W. Blair Braden.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Two members of the Board of Education will be elected this year, the term of the other three expiring next year. George Hart is a candidate for re-election. The position of P. J. Dudley, who will not be a candidate, is being sought by W. G. Giletti and Mrs. Samuel V. Carlisle.

Appointment of a City Planning Commission may be the main issue in the campaign, inasmuch as Public Works and Finance. The People's Forum has passed a resolution declaring for such a commission and demanding that a candidate place themselves on record in the matter.

The Santa Monica City Club is investigating the records of candidates on Municipal Improvement Bonds and has declared for public purchase of beach and park lands and for a citywide work and a City Planning Commission.

Commissioner Helton has placed a suggested civic program before the City Council, and the attitude of officials on this has had considerable bearing on the city-planning issue.

CITY HALL PLAN

Other suggestions are for the acquisition of the lot adjoining the present City Hall site, with a view to constructing a new City Hall to house all departmental offices, acquisition of water-bearing land, a park and playground program, a tree campaign, including the planting of uniform trees in blocks and adherence of zoning ordinances.

Additional points in the program are to secure a dredged hotel construction, if feasible, of a breakwater for a yacht harbor, and building of a new causeway to the beach. He also suggested that the territory known as the aviation field be utilized as an airport.

Question: How many hits could be made by one team in one inning of baseball without a run being scored?

Answer: Six hits can be made and no runs scored. First batter hits for three bases, but is thrown out at the plate trying to stretch it into a home run. Second batter also hits triple and is thrown out at plate trying to make home run—two out. Next three batters hit singles, filling the bases. Sixth batter hits a ground ball that strikes runner going to third base. The runner is out for being hit by batter, but batter is credited with hit.

Q: Could a ship with 2000 tons of cargo ascend the St. Lawrence and deliver goods in Detroit?

A: The Secretary of the Department of Railways and Canals of Ottawa, Can., says that the size of ships using the dominion canals between Montreal and Chicago is limited by the dimensions of the locks. The minimum-sized lock has a useable length of 255 feet; width 40 feet, 6 inches, and a depth on sills, four feet. The cargo capacity of the full-sized vessels using these canals is about 2000 tons.

Q: How far above the equator is the Big Dipper always visible?

D. B. A: From 46 deg. North latitude to the North Pole. The Dipper is always above the horizon.

Q: Do cobras often bite people?

A: They are sluggish snakes, rarely, except when provoked or endangered, and they may be killed by a slight blow. The bite when it does occur is very venomous, and is almost surely fatal. Men have been known to perish within half an hour, and in such cases all possible remedies are useless.

Q: Is a painting has no signature, can it be identified?

M. E. C. A: One way of proving the identity of a painting is the examination of the brush stroke. As one art critic has said, "The brush strokes of a painter are as individual as the handwriting of a writer."

A: The English language is spoken more widely than any other language in the world except the Chinese. It is spoken by 400,000,000. German is spoken by 100,000,000, and Russian by 100,000,000.

Q: Is there an extension of a patent and a release of a patent and the same thing in effect?

H. A. R. A: They are entirely different from each other. Under patent laws, by an extension of a patent is meant a prolongation of its life, so that the patent remains in force throughout the period of its extension. When the term of a patent was made seventeen years, in the year 1881, the law respecting extensions of patents was passed, so that an extension shall be granted only by special act of Congress, the effect of which has been to make the extension of a patent granted since such modification took effect. A reissue of a patent consists in the grant of an amendment in the place of the original, so that the patent offices permit the patentee to surrender because it is inoperative or invalid on account of defects in the original application or on account of the patentee having claimed in the original application as of his invention or discovery more than he had a right to claim as his own.

Q: What is an orphan rank?
